

Instructions for the MWSCAS 2022 Design Contest Submission

In order to submit your Design Contest Summary, please follow the instructions below.

1) Manuscript preparation

- Initial manuscripts may include authors' names and their affiliations. The first author of the submission must be a student. Authors' names, their affiliations are requested when you submit your final paper.
- The paper should be 2 pages in length including all figures, tables and references. Although the submission will be reviewed by experts, it should include an introduction for non-specialists that outlines the problem and the results obtained, focusing on the important ideas and their significance.
- Accepted file format is PDF only. No other formats will be accepted. You must make a pdf file which can be read by Acrobat Reader. Manuscripts should not include special fonts such as Asian fonts.
- The submissions must be prepared in the IEEE double-column conference paper format. Templates (MS Word and LaTeX), sample papers and instructions to generate PDF files can be obtained from the following URL: <https://epapers.org/mwscas2022/ESR/samples.php>

2) Manuscript Submission

Please go to the MWSCAS 2022 submission site <https://epapers.org/mwscas2022> and select Student Design Contest Track

Requirement

- An author of each selected design should make a short presentation at a special session of MWSCAS 2022. Each selected design will be included in the conference proceedings.

Remarks:

- It is strongly recommended that measured experimental results and a system photo/chip micrograph are included in the submission. If the experimental results and the chip micrograph have not been prepared before the deadline of submission, the authors can send the revised paper including them later..
- It is acceptable to submit a design which was already published. But do not submit the identical paper already submitted to the other conferences. Contents of the paper must be the original one.
- Any modification in authors' names including the order of the listed authors after submission deadline is not allowed except that TPC approves the modification.
